

Arts and Culture Council hosts Asia Society Texas Center to discuss their current visual art exhibitions

On April 26, the Partnership hosted the Arts and Culture Council featuring guest speaker Bridget Bray, Nancy C. Allen Curator and Director of Exhibitions at Asia Society Texas Center. She provided an overview of Asia Society's visual arts exhibitions.

Houston is the most ethnically diverse city in the nation, with a large population and business presence from Asia. Because of this global reach, Bray noted, "Houston looks outward for inspiration as much as we look inward." As Houston grows its business and policy connections with Asia, Bray hopes to also increase cultural knowledge and understanding. Current exhibitions include Yuriko Yamaguchi and We Chat: A Dialogue in Contemporary Chinese Art.

With 12 locations throughout the world, Asia Society is the leading educational organization promoting mutual understanding and strengthening partnerships among the peoples, leaders, and institutions of Asia and the west.