

Demographics – Race/Ethnicity

Houston is more racially and ethnically diverse than the nation.

2018 Population by Race/Ethnicity

Percentage Distribution

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, 2018 American Community Survey

- No racial/ethnic group constitutes a majority of the Houston-The Woodlands-Sugar Land Metropolitan Statistical Area (Houston MSA) population. Metro Houston’s Hispanic/Latino population grew larger than the White population in ’17.
- The Houston MSA is home to the nation’s fourth-largest Hispanic/Latino population at more than 2.6 million.
- Between ’10 and ’18, the greater Houston area population increased by 17.1 percent. The non-White population drove the bulk of this growth—the Asian population increased by 39.8 percent and the Hispanic/Latino population by 24.3 percent.