

POWER HOUR

SPEAKER
BIO

Sheel Tyle | Founder & CEO, Amplo

Sheel is the Founder & CEO of Amplo, a global venture capital firm helping build companies that matter. Amplo companies include Robinhood (democratizing access to financial services, most recently valued at $5.6 billion), One Concern (machine learning for disaster response), and Two Chairs (mental health clinics). He is a member of the Board of Directors for Andela, most recently named the #1 most innovative company in Africa by Fast Company. He previously was the co-head of the seed practice at NEA, the world's largest venture capital firm.

Sheel graduated from Stanford University in three years, at the age of 19. He is a World Economic Forum Global Shaper, and was on the Forbes 30 under 30 list in 2013. He holds a JD from Harvard Law School. He is a member of the Board of Directors for the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library & the Greater Houston Partnership.

GREATER HOUSTON
PARTNERSHIP.