Alex Condon, Director of Strategic Initiatives, Tietronix Software

Alex Condon is the Director of Strategic Initiatives at Tietronix Software. Tietronix Software is a 20-year-old custom software developer, primarily for NASA but also in commercial aerospace, life sciences and energy. In addition to Houston, Tietronix has a digital sciences office in Brittany, France. At Tietronix, Alex is responsible for leading efforts into new lines of business or initiatives inside the organization. This includes bringing innovations that Tietronix has developed for NASA, NASA Space Life Sciences, DARPA, CNES – the French Space Agency, NIH, DOE, FAA and NSF into the commercial market. Tietronix develops software for many global healthcare companies including Novartis, Alcon, Fresenius and LivaNova as well as well recognized brands such as Ford, Chevron, the European Investment Bank, and Safran, a world leader in jet engine manufacturing. Tietronix has a high degree of expertise in Advanced Technologies including Augmented Reality and is Houston's only Microsoft Mixed Reality Partner. Alex is also the co-founder and COO of Galen Data, a Tietronix spinoff. Galen Data is a medical device cloud connectivity platform that was awarded Most Promising Company at the 2017 Texas Life Science Forum at Rice.
