Houston Small Biz Connect

Big Plans for Partnership's Small Business Members

Small Biz Connect will service a critical business community for the city and region.

Research shows small businesses are the nation's leading source of job creators and innovators representing 28.8 million companies and 56.8 million employees according to the U.S. Small Business Administration. In fact, Houston's small businesses hub is driven by ethnically diverse workforce owners that ranks top ten among U.S. metros, according to U.S. Census Entrepreneur Survey. These numbers reflect a powerful engine influencing employment, entrepreneurialism and policy within the region.

"In order for economic prosperity to grow within the region, upward economic mobility must be nurtured in the present and future that is the Houston small business community," said Bob Harvey, president and CEO of the Partnership. "As the largest chamber of commerce and economic development organization in the region, we have a platform to champion valuable business connections among high-growth small businesses – and the services to provide professional development training and on-demand digital programming – fulfilling its mission to provide inclusive access to all."
